Master appoints new technical sales representative

Master Abrasives has appointed Joe Phillips as its new technical sales representative for the South.

Joe will initially be working in the South East but will also be spending time with technical sales representative Ken Hoskins over the coming months with the aim of providing support for the entire Southern territory when Ken retires in June 2017.

Paul Batson, Managing Director, explains: "Joe has gained valuable experience in grinding and finishing applications during the time he has worked in the abrasive industry. He's going to be a great asset to Master Abrasives and will certainly be a key member of the sales team responsible for our strategic development in sales. Of course, Ken will be a tough act to follow, but I am confident in Joe's ability to support our customers in his territory."
